

A mass m suspended on a cord which passes over a frictionless pulley then wraps on the surface of uniform cylinder, mass M radius R on a plane. As m descends it gives angular acceleration A to the cylinder, moving it up the plane. The plane makes angle b with horizontal.

