

A uniform spherical shell of matter showing diametrically opposite mass elements and their respective gravity fields.

