

In working for a test and evaluation facility you have been asked to make buying and future testing recommendations on the following data for your service. Two F-16 pilots and one F-18 pilot were recruited to make randomized multiple bombing runs in F-16s and F-18s. Your service wants to get the aircraft platform that performs best as measured by the lowest radial miss distance (RMD). Run any tests you think would be useful and report any interesting findings and relevant graphs along with recommendations
